Warrant No. 10 18 11 7B

Division Seven

STATE'S MOTION TO SEAL COURT RECORDS

Comes now the State of Missouri, by and through Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Wesley M. Rogers, and pursuant to Supreme Court Operating Rule 4.24(1)(r), Section 610.100(2), RSMo., and Section 610.100(3), RSMo. asks this court to seal records relating to search warrant no. 10 18 11 7B. In support of its motion, the State states as follows:

1. The search warrant was executed at ██████████ Lister, Kansas City, MO on October 19, 2011.
2. The search warrant was sought to assist in the pending investigation of missing child, L.I. who was last seen on October 3, 2011.
3. There is information contained in the affidavit and application for the search warrant that was necessary to secure the search warrant that is currently not public knowledge.
4. If the information contained in the affidavit and application for search warrant is released to the public, it would likely interfere in the ongoing investigation of the missing child.

Respectfully submitted,

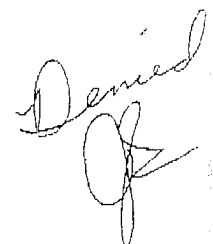

Wesley M. Rogers #60270

AFFIDAVIT FOR SEARCH WARRANT

10 18 11 7R

ss.

COUNTY OF CLAY

I, Kimberly Shirley-Williams, Detective with the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department, FIRST BEING SWORN UPON MY OATH STATE AS FOLLOWS, BEFORE THE UNDERSIGNED JUDGE AUTHORIZED TO ISSUE WARRANTS IN CRIMINAL CASES:

My name is Kimberly Shirley-Williams. I have been employed at the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department for over thirteen years. I am currently assigned as a detective with the Kansas City Missouri Police Department Crimes Against Children Unit

I am requesting a Search Warrant for the residence at 3600 N. Lister Drive, Kansas City, Clay County, Missouri, the actual land, any and all vehicles (operable or non-operable) and trailers located on the property, and the detached building located to the rear of the residence.

The property to be searched for and seized is described as follows: Any evidence deemed to have evidentiary value to the relevant case of a missing child, to include, but not limited to DNA, fingerprints, cell phones and evidence of human decomposition.

On October 4, 2011 patrol officers with the Kansas City Missouri Police department were dispatched to 3600 N. Lister on a reported missing child.

Upon arrival, contact was made with Jeremy Irwin who stated his ten-month-old daughter (LI) was missing from their house. Officers entered the residence to search for the baby. All rooms in the house and the basement were checked for the baby. An area canvass was also conducted in the back yard, both yielding negative results.

Detectives obtained consent to search for the house beginning on October 4, 2011. Detectives and crime scene personnel searched the home for any evidence of a child or evidence to support an abduction of a child. Crime scene personnel recovered items from the home, but due to the initial information provided by the family, the only areas extensively processed for DNA and fingerprints during the consent were the baby's bedroom and possible points of entry.

Interviews with Jeremy Irwin and Deborah Bradley, the baby's mother and father, revealed the baby was missing along with three cell phones. Law enforcement personnel searched the home and located a cell phone in the bottom desk drawer of the computer desk. It was later determined that the cell phone located in the drawer was not one of the missing cell phones in question. The three reported missing cell phones have not been located and would include additional evidence. A search of the surrounding area for evidence of the baby and/or cell phones has been met with negative results.

Investigative interviews with the people involved revealed conflicting information for clear direction in the investigation. Bradley made the statement she did not initially look for her baby behind the house because she "was afraid of what she might find." The extent of the search had been limited in nature with consent although each search has recovered evidence helpful to further progress the investigation. However, the type of search needed at this time would not be conducive to being revoked at any time by the owners and/or their attorney. A more extensive intrusive search needs to be completed at the property where the baby was last accounted. There have been 585 tips/leads investigated as of this date and none have revealed the whereabouts or deposition of the baby. The items and evidence recovered as of this date supports the need for a thorough, time consuming, and systematic search using additional techniques. The ~~search needed on the property may include handheld tool excavation of the physical~~ land. The land includes a garden area with portions of dirt having an appearance of being recently disturbed or overturned.

On October 17, 2011 an FBI cadaver dog was brought into the residence upon consent of Irwin and Bradley. The cadaver dog indicated a positive "hit" for the scent of a deceased human in an area of the floor of Bradley's bedroom near the bed.

The foregoing is true to the best belief and knowledge, further affiant saith not.
